Noted Bank Robber Caught In Illinois

Thomas Gibbons, Convicted of Halifax Bank Raid, to Be Taken Back to Roan- oke, from Which Prison He Escaped.

Thomas B. Gibbons, alias “H. B. Gordon,” the man who robbed the bank at Halifax in the winter of 1920 and who escaped from Roanoke City jail in a sensational delivery headed by Charles Wilkes, has been apprehended at Carlinville, Illinois and will be taken by train to Roanoke on Monday. Wilkes has already been recaptured, this taking place in Birmingham, and Gibbons was convicted at Halifax under the name of Gordon on the testimony of a woman confederate and who was sentenced to serve seven years in the penitentiary. He was arrested at Carlinville in some woods where the police found him badly beaten and injured. He was taken to the jail on the charge of having robbed a bank at Scottsville. Fingerprints were taken and sent to Philadelphia and it was only a few days ago that he was found to be the member of the bandit gang which robbed numerous Southern banks during that winter. He was going under the name of “J. W. Benson.” The day that his identity was revealed he was caught in the act of sawing the bars of Carlinville jail evidently with the idea of making another break for freedom.

The arrest of the man for the Halifax robbery was a shrewd piece of detective work by the Baldwin Felt concern. The woman confederate was arrested in Philadelphia and was held a prisoner for two weeks. At the end of that time she elected to turn her past and the activity of her male confederates. In addition to this she told the police where Gibbons could be found, the police locating him in a Philadelphia hospital where he was being treated for a gunshot wound in the leg sustained in a brawl. As soon as he was well he was taken to Roanoke and thence to Halifax. Upon conviction he was removed again to Roanoke to be kept there pending action on an appeal. It was while there that Wilkes staged the daring escape and carried Gibbons with him.

Ocean City Jail Wrecked By Mob

Two Prisoners Are Released by Crowd Following Row With Police—Conflicting Causes Cited.

OCEAN CITY, Md., June 20.—The little Ocean City jail was broken into last night and the two prisoners confined there released. One of these was afterward recaptured, and taken to the jail at Snow Hill, the seat of the Annapolis county. There are a number of conflicting stories as to who did the work and why it was done.

The generally accepted story follows: The Ocean City authorities employed as a policeman a young man named Clark who came here from the West and said he was a cowboy. He dressed in cowboy clothing, wore high leather boots, tied a handkerchief around his neck and had his pistol strapped on his leg. His actions were so disrespectful to some of the young people who frequent the resort in the evening and on Sundays, besides which he would arrest one of them once in a while for some offense it is said.

It is said that a plot was made last night to go into a fight and run him out of town. With their plans made, the young men went to the boardwalk and acted in a disorderly manner. One of the company, S. R. Cropper, was arrested and taken to the lockup. Clark, who was a member of the club and struck Cropper, was released after making known to him that he was a doctor. Cropper's friends claimed that he needed medical attention and demanded that Cropper be released so that he could be taken to a doctor. The officer that he was not released in 15 minutes that they would forcibly remove him from the jail. When the time was up they battered the door down and released Cropper and Ernest Foskey, who was confined for another offense.

As far as can be learned, the mob, which consisted of about 25 persons was composed of residents from the town in the county and some from Delaware.

The Mayor is investigating the occurrence and says he will prosecute the guilty persons as soon as they can be apprehended.

Several of Cropper's friends who say the disturbance on the boardwalk was that the cowboy struck and knocked Cropper down with his stick before he attempted to make the arrest and they also claim that he had no authority to make the arrest. Several of the mob were sworn in as an officer of the law.

The members of the mob were ordered except that they insisted that Cropper be released from the jail for treatment and after this was accomplished they dispersed. It is ascertained that the damage to the jail was not great. A new front door will be the latest expense, it is said. Cropper, over whom the disturbance started, has not been rearrested.

Knew Nothing of Ward Blackmail, Sister Testifies

Mrs. Wood at Conspiracy Hearing Denies She Dis- cussed Killing Case With Family—Father Will Con- tinue Business Trip In West.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Mrs. Leland Stanford Wood, sister of Walter S. Ward, testified yesterday at the hearing to determine whether members of the Ward family conspired to defeat justice in connection with the slaying of Clarence Peters. She and her husband had been subpoenaed to appear before Justice Morchauer, sitting as a magistrate in White Plains.

The Woods live at No. 8 West 76th street. Mrs. Wood is an ardent horsewoman and exhibited a ribbon winner at the recent Westchester county show. She also turned out to be the “mysterious woman” witness whom the authorities were seeking on Saturday. She had been with her husband at the Gedyne Farm Hotel, District Attorney Weeks hoped to gain from her the story of the shooting. Mrs. Wood, however, was responsible for the shooting of Peters in the pistol “battle.”

He had heard the version of Ralph D. Ward, brother of Walter, but sought more detail. The District Attorney also wanted to learn from Mrs. Wood whether she knew about the departure of her father, George S. Ward, from the jurisdiction of the court and state.

Mrs. Wood said that she had no knowledge of any blackmail plot against any of the Woods, no knowledge of the shooting of Peters, and she read of it in the newspapers, and knew nothing further about it than she had read since. She had not discussed it with her father or brothers, and they had heard nothing about it, she said. Mrs. Wood, who followed her as a witness, said he never had heard of any blackmail, and had not talked about the shooting with any of the Woods.

Ralph Ward then was recalled and questioned about his father's trip to the Middle West. Mr. Ward, Sr., was reported in Cleveland last night. He said he made reservations months ago for his father to go on a business trip of inspection of banking plants, and that he was certain his father had not gone away to avoid legal consequences, but merely was compelled by business to leave.

He also said he talked with his father on the long distance telephone and that his father knew he was wanted as a witness, but was going to complete Campbell and Edward M. Rabenold, two of the Ward lawyers, were witnesses under subpoena at the hearing, and afterward they broke their silence to say that they had testified the only reason they were called to testify was that they were the father of George Ward went away was to attend to business.

District Attorney Weeks had hoped through the hearing, to prove that a conspiracy existed, and thereby obtain a warrant on which George Ward could be arrested and extradited. The grand jury which indicted Walter Ward meets again tomorrow, and Mr. Weeks had planned to present conspiracy evidence before that body.

John E. Mack, who was twice District Attorney of Dutchess county, and who is reported to act as a prosecutor of Walter Ward for murder, was in conference with District Attorney Weeks in Poughkeepsie a week ago. Mr. Mack took part in the legal battle that brought Harry K. Thaw back from Canada, after his flight from Matteawan, after his escape from Sing Sing.

Mr. Mack was in at his home in Poughkeepsie yesterday. His daughter said over the telephone, in response to an inquiry, that her father had been appointed to act in the Ward case.

It was reported that Isaac N. Mills of Mount Vernon would be the chief counsel in Ward's defense at the trial. Mr. Mills is a former Justice of the Supreme Court.

Rival Supporters Are Still Busy

Increased activity and increased interest in marking the progress of the local primary campaign, which Frank Talbot and E. H. Marshall are fighting against one another for the nomination for the position of superintendent of public utilities. The Talbot organization has opened campaign headquarters in which point the campaign is being directed. The Marshall organization is also hard at work, sounding out the voters by personal emissaries and committees, and both sides may be said to be making an exhaustive enquiry as to the sentiment of the electorate. About 40 men said to be favorable to Mr. Marshall held a meeting last night in the office of W. P. Tudor, where the interests of the candidate were discussed and plans for future activities drawn up. The Marshall people have been holding ward meetings with regularity since the opening of the campaign.

While the campaign is placed on the surface, there is growing realization that it is getting warmer. The voting list is not yet out of the hands of the printer, and when these lists do become available, there will doubtless be another period of feverish activity on both sides. The main five more votes for the run of the campaign, the primary date being August 1st.

So far as known, no active steps have been taken yet towards the appointment of judges and clerks for election, nor for providing facilities for holding the vote, which is expected to be unusually heavy—probably the largest vote ever cast in Danville, in view of the fact that more women are eligible to participate than ever before and owing to the general interest in the Swanson and Davis contest.

Heavy Rains Are Damaging to Crops

Excessive rains in Eastern North Carolina and South Carolina during the past two days are reported to have done damage to the growing crops especially to tobacco. Especially in this case, it is said in areas where the drainage is poor and where water is standing in the fields.

Dan River was unusually high last night and the creeks and streams which flow into it bore evidence of heavy rains at the waterfalls. The heaviest rain experienced for several days past has caused considerable alarm in surrounding villages, but experts consider the alarm groundless, attributing the awakening of the volcano to heavy rains.

No one was injured when the derailment occurred although a workman, whose name could not be ascertained, was slightly injured while assisting in clearing up the smashed box car.

Woman Driver Breaks Hydrant

A city fire hydrant at the corner of Jefferson and Main streets was run into and broken at about a quarter to 10 o'clock this morning by Mrs. W. P. Boggs, who was driving a Ford car. Mrs. Boggs, according to Police Officer O. T. Cook, who hastened to investigate the accident, was then attempting to turn right when the car, which ran on the sidewalk, the axle of the car hitting the fire plug. Mrs. Boggs was not early in the morning when traffic is light, to familiarize herself with the operation of the car. The plug, which was lying on the sidewalk, was broken under the ground, and a large volume of water was released, this flowing down Jefferson street to Loyal street, where it made its way down to the lower section of that street, where it was caught in a gutter in laying hot asphalt. Workmen abandoned this task and built a miniature dam, which diverted the water into Ridge street, where it was drained off.

The plug broken was one of the older ones in use and is not equipped with a valve. Rather than cut off the water supply from that entire section just at breakfast time, the water was allowed to run until material was collected and a new plug taken to the place where it was needed to “use the place of the broken hydrant.”

Mrs. Milton Scarce Died Early Today

Mrs. Milton Scarce died at 1:35 a. m. today at her home, 238 Gray street. She was 63 years of age, and had been a resident of Danville for the past 21 years. She was born near Whitfield, and held her church membership at the Primitive Baptist church. Besides her husband, she leaves five daughters and a son, Mrs. W. J. Bell, Danville, Mrs. Thomas Cameron, Danville, Mrs. Stokes Scarce, Danville, Miss Ellen Scarce, Danville, Mrs. Lawson Taylor, Whitfield, and Roy Scarce, of near this city.

The funeral of Mrs. Scarce will be held at ten o'clock tomorrow morning and will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Wilson. Interment will take place at Green Hill cemetery.

Two Freight Cars Derailed

The derailment of two freight cars of a northbound train yesterday afternoon just above the dry bridge disarranged the regular schedule for several hours. The smash-up occurred about 3 o'clock and the debris was not cleared away until nearly 8 o'clock. However, trains were able to pass during this time for the cars were soon removed from one track and this was used for trains going both ways.

Just what caused the box cars to leave the rails is not known. The long freight was coming down the grade approaching Danville at a moderate rate when the cars left the track. One of them contained a shipment of furniture while the other carried lard. The car with the furniture was literally smashed when it was hurled against the embankment while the one containing lard merely left the track but did not overturn. The wrecking crew was soon on the scene clearing away the splintered box car. The sound of the crash was heard for some distance and during the course of the afternoon many persons visited the scene and watched with interest the operations of the big derrick in picking up the box cars and the trucks.

No one was injured when the derailment occurred although a workman, whose name could not be ascertained, was slightly injured while assisting in clearing up the smashed box car.

Gives Advice To Retail Dealer

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, June 21.—“The retail dealer would do well to imitate the honey bee,” Horatio Sawyer Earle told the Congress of the National Retail Hardware Association here today. He urged retailers to “take common sense” and “consider every person in community a stockholder and your company and you a stockholder in every institution in the community.”

Morning Chorus Leads to Arrest

The attention of police officers was attracted early this morning by loud talking and other noises in store at Forsyth and Main streets. The officers thought there was something amiss and found several men within the place in an intoxicated condition. About three pints of whiskey were also found in the place. The result was that W. J. Boggs, who is said to operate the place, which is a creamery, Jesse O'Dell and Harry Lewis were placed under arrest. Warrants charging violations of the Mapp Act and becoming intoxicated were issued. The cases were continued until Friday.

Police Officers O. T. Cook and A. C. Morgan were walking up Wilson street when they heard the noise. This was shortly after sunrise. Two of the men were trying to harmonize the voices of the other two. The officers thought it wise to investigate and did so with the above stated results. Boggs was not with the other men but was upstairs. When questioned he was asked if there was anyone down stairs and his reply was that there was not. This was after the officers had found the men and whiskey. Boggs later admitted that he opened the door for the men and permitted them to come into his place. The officers took charge of the men and whiskey and brought them back, which will be tried in court Friday.

HORSEHAIR BRUSHED BARRED

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Men who shave must be protected from exposure to anthrax, the House today decided, when it passed a bill to exclude from importation into this country or transportation in interstate commerce shaving brushes made of horsehair.

Whereupon Representative White (Republican, Kansas), rubbing his hand, suggested that there were many persons with a thick growth of hair upon their heads who should be protected from the peril in that quarter, and he therefore asked that the prohibition be extended to hairbrushes made of horsehair. This was done.

Said to Have Offered Sum to Surgeon — Enraged When Public Learned of Operation — Man Who Sold His Gland for $500 Has Vanished.

CHICAGO, June 20.—In his walled-off wing of the Wesley Memorial hospital, with cordons of internes nurses and detectives to fend off public curiosity, Harold F. McCormick's gland transplanting operation is progressing satisfactorily. Indeed, indications are the operation has been concluded and it is certain the patient soon will leave the hospital.

The man from whom the gland was transferred to Mr. McCormick's body has disappeared. He is understood to be one of several picked up in the streets, all of whom passed blood tests, and was chosen as the one whose system best met the requirements of Mr. McCormick's case. A fee of $500 was paid to him.

Mr. McCormick was so anxious for complete secrecy, that he is reported to have offered Dr. Victor Leppin, who performed the operation, $50,000 if no one other than the necessary attendants were aware of it.

When he learned that the news had been published, he is said to have been highly enraged. His first action was to order a squad of detectives placed at the entrance to the hospital and in the corridors around his suite.

The greatest precautions were taken to prevent any leakage of information. But the harvester transfer has become prominent through the romance of his younger daughter, Mathilde and Max Oser, the Swiss riding master; the divorce obtained by Mrs. McCormick, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, and the linking of his own affairs with those of Mrs. Ganna Walska, the prima donna, and public curiosity overcame all his safeguards.

However, his secret was kept for five days. He entered the hospital a week ago today and that night the preliminary operation was begun. Not until Saturday was it known he had been operated on, but soon the nature of the operation was learned. Dr. Lespinasse is still uncommunicative, however. His bulletin, issued at noon merely says:

“Harold F. McCormick is in excellent spirits this morning and his surgical condition is all that can be desired.”

Danville Youth Is Accidentally Shot

It became known today that Fred Meade, the fourteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Meade, was shot and severely injured yesterday morning at Cottage Hill, the estate of the late E. K. Jones, where he and D. Price Withers, Jr., young son of Judge and Mrs. Withers are spending their summer holiday. The youngsters were engaged in cleaning a small .25-calibre sporting rifle which was loaded, when, in some manner, unexplained, the gun went off and the bullet took effect in Fred Meade's face. The ball entered the cheek, penetrated the jawbone, lodged in the flesh behind the jawbone on the other side. As soon as the distressing accident had taken place Dr. G. O. Emerson was hastily called and he rendered immediate treatment. Later Dr. R. Bruce and Julian Robinson were called from Danville and went out to Cottage Hill to make further examination of the injuries and to determine upon the best treatment. The boy is reported to be somewhat better today and his injuries sustained are not believed to be very serious. It is likely that sometime later the wounded boy will undergo a minor operation for the removal of the bullet.

Believe Tabernacle Will Be the Coolest

Decision to hold the annual chautauque in the tabernacle instead of under a tent, as has been usual in the past, was reached at a meeting of the board of trustees of the chautauque held in the city hall last night. The decision was reached after a long discussion of the advantages of the tabernacle and it was believed that the tabernacle would be cooler than the tent and that the weather would be more comfortable. The chautauque will be held from July 1st to July 15th.

secretary treasurer, Otis, and the other officers of the E. H. Ed. manager of the Charlotte retail store, J. R. manager of the Columbia store, J. W. E. H. Ed. New York representative and buyer for the chain. The brothers own the entire system, and all other retail being included in organization.

The Charlotte store building must be located in one of the best retail sections of the city. In the first of the year 1908, the first store in the country held the old Charlotte hotel was purchased by the E. H. Ed. more than two years ago, the price has been around $200,000.

New Lines to be Added

Many new lines will be added to the stock of goods when the building is completed and occupied. Mr. E. H. Ed. said yesterday stating the store will continue to be popular for the popular priced trade, but plans to be made for carrying a line of goods that will be as nice as desirable as the public in general want to purchase.

The new store will be devoted to the carrying of the retail trade in Charlotte and vicinity. The lotte Mercantile Company, now located several doors to the rear of the E. H. Ed. store, on North College will probably carry the same line as the present E. H. department, corner East Trade and College as Mr. E. H. Ed. said.

The erection of the new store doubtless add much to Charlotte as a merchant center and help to increase the radius of the trade territory of this city, already reaching many miles in all directions.

Five H. Ed. Powered Brothers

The E. H. Ed. brothers, following the lead taken by their older and ceased brother, have had a remarkable since in their merchandise business since the real start in expansion and growth started in 1890, and now 18 years ago.

During that time, without training or preparation, but with a lot of hard work, close application to business, and expansion of opportunities offered and making use of opportunities to take advantage of these five brothers have built a business that has almost been a record in its growth and expansion. The fact is, hardly be called this one of any other State and one that few can claim the credit of having surpassed.

The E. H. Ed. are still young, their efforts are still being put to the test, while they are passing from youth to young manhood. This fact, along with "metal of men" lead those who have to predict that it will be many years before the E. H. Ed. can be of the great big and strong cantile systems of the nation.

German Police On Job In Fake Case

BERLIN, June 20.—How the police saved the widow of former Prince Joachim of Prussia, youngest son of the ex-emperor, who committed suicide a couple of years ago, from becoming engaged to one of the biggest crooks of the age was described in a Berlin court.

The defendant in the case is "Count" von "Dethlefsen" who is charged with having swindled several land barons out of millions of German marks. Witnesses in the case, according to the Berlin National Zeitung, testified that the fake count was on friendly terms with the prince and that she, after consulting other members of the Hohenzollern family was about to announce her engagement officially when the police interfered by arresting Dethlefsen.

Both Joachim and his wife became acquainted with the accused in Munich during the Red uprising there, and Dethlefsen is reported to have saved their lives when the Spartacists appeared on the scene to arrest the son of the former emperor. It was brought out in court that Dethlefsen had deserted from the army and started a champagne factory near Munich, although he had no money.

He bought racing stables, automobiles and country estates and is accused of having paid for them with the money of the prince and his wife. However, it is said to have believed in him all the while.

Trial of the case has been postponed, the outcome of the defense claiming that Dethlefsen is crazy.

MRS. BUTLER IS OVERJOYED AT HER RECOVERY

Declares Tanlac Gave Her Complete Relief After Everything Else Failed To Reach Her Case.

"I am overjoyed at the wonderful good Tanlac has done me after I had suffered five years," said Mrs. Mamie Butler, 1258 Taylor St., Richmond, Va.

Indigestion troubled me so long I had little hope of seeing another well day. Nearly everything I ate soured on my stomach and I felt stuffy and nauseated. The pains around my heart were so dreadful and I felt so tight across the chest I almost came before my eyes and I almost fell over I was badly constipated and so run down that often I had to go to bed and stay several days.

But now I am well and happy for Tanlac has fully restored me after everything else failed. I enjoy everything I eat, my nerves are steady and I get plenty of restful sleep. Tanlac deserves all my praise and thanks. Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

Husbands Feared More Than Police

Brides, That Are Held On Shoplifting Charge, Give Fictitious Names.

PHILADELPHIA, June 19.—Afraid that their husbands would punish them when informed of their arrest for shoplifting, two pretty Italian brides who but recently arrived in this country gave fictitious names to police, and made a determined effort to keep secret the disclosure while they were vainly trying to locate them after pleas by the frantic husbands.

They are Mrs. Dollie Primieri, 24 years old, and Mrs. Lucy Rosetti, 23 years old, both of 2116 Mantion street. They were arrested yesterday afternoon by Market street store detectives for taking three dresses from a counter.

When taken to City Hall and placed in charge of the police matron the girls started to weep bitterly. Throughout the night, ignoring attempts to pacify them, they continued to cry and tear their hair.

"What is going to become of us now," they sobbed. "They will surely kill us." They were held in $500 bail each for grand jury.

The detectives did not discover the real identity of the accused shoplifters until this morning. When arrested they had given the names of Mary Rossetti, 27 years old, and Mary Pallanza, 23 years old, and address at Sixteenth and Tasker streets. When detectives went to the South Sixteenth street address they were told the two girls were not known. They decided the names were fictitious and returned to City Hall to question them further.

Shortly afterward the prisoners broke down and admitted their identity. Then between broken sobs they told the vengeance their husbands would take.

"Please don't let them know," both pleaded. "We are not really thieves. But the dresses looked so pretty we were tempted."

Upon entreaties of the matron the girls told the police that they left their home yesterday morning after their husbands had gone to work. They rode as far as Market street and afterward entered one of the department stores.

"Neither of us had much money, because we didn't intend to go any place," they said. "But finally we wandered into one of the stores, and the sight of those gorgeous dresses was too much. We couldn't keep our hands off them."

Store detectives who noticed the actions of the girls arrested them and confiscated the clothes, which were hidden beneath their dresses. Police have notified the husbands of the accused girls.

Japan Trying To Dodge Bad Trade Crisis

TOKYO, June 20.—The biggest brains in Japanese business were today seeking ways to avert the threatening wave of commercial and industrial depression.

Conferring and discussing were still hopeful of averting a Japanese business crisis. For weeks some have feared the precipitation of such a crisis at any time.

Others, while facing the fact of a presently serious slump and seemingly certain period of severe depression, believe that an actual crisis will be avoided.

Money has become abnormally tight. The listings on the exchange have slumped—some violently. Speculation and inflation, heretofore of the war boom, are still unliquidated. If these boom readjustments are forced now, many big concerns may close and many thousands of workmen be thrown out.

In a business and economic sense, Japan is just realizing the war is over. The slump that came to Europe over two years ago and to the United States and most South American countries well over a year ago is just threatening Japan in the spring of 1923. War prices and war profits are still being maintained here—artificially. But buying is getting blacker every day. People are refusing to pay, and most are unable to pay the exorbitant prices. Japan is losing her foreign trade because her prices are in most cases much higher than any other country.

With the banks refusing loans, buyers refusing, labor getting uglier and more discontented, the exchanges demoralized and all the business world fearful, the situation is filled with exceeding uncertainty.

Depression and readjustment are inevitable, every authority agrees. The question is whether the financial storm will be sudden and calamitous, leaving business wreckage and bankruptcy in its wake, or whether the readjustment can be conducted slowly and without such disaster.

Japanese newspapers are filled with demands that the "government do something." But there isn't much the government can do.

Real Golf Balls Sold In Ten-Cent Stores

NEW YORK, June 21.—A golf ball to sell for 10 cents has been put on the market and is now being handled by a large chain store organization. It is produced by a tire company and on account of the low price, it is referred to as scrap rubber is used. The wholesale price is $9 a gross.

Those who have used the new product say it is as lively as other makes and will stand rough handling even better.

Hundreds Search for Murderers of "Dinnie" Sullivan, One of the Political Rulers of the Bowery.

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, June 21.—Hundreds of residents in lower Eastside today joined in the hunt for the hold-up men who blackjacked and caused the death of "Dinnie" Sullivan, of the powerful Sullivan clan, political rulers of the bowery for Tammany Hall. Dinnie was found dying a few doors from the house of his brother, Representative "Florrie" Sullivan, just off the bowery.

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, June 21.—Striking examples of marine inventions performed during the last days of the war are being demonstrated on the Bowery which is in port here.

Her foremast is placed several feet starboard of the keel to mislead submarines, and her funnel, much shorter than that of the average steamer of the tonnage, is over the keel so that it is impossible to tell by looking through the periscope of a submarine which way the steamer is proceeding.

Smoke may be diverted from the funnel to a passageway near the waterline so that the vessel may make an effective smoke screen in emergencies.

Novel Methods To Save Ships

Further outlining the purpose of the society is announced: "When Congress and the constituted authorities refuse to allow any branch of the government to be investigated, the time has come for women to insist that all political parties get back to the foundation of truth and old-fashioned honesty. Instead of attempting to limit the voice of the people in their government and blindly trusting the treasury and the management of public affairs to those who by the grace of the people have been placed in power, the people should be better informed as to how affairs are managed. In order that unfaithful and dishonest public servants might be more promptly called to account."

The organization will maintain a permanent department with competent investigators to keep track of government affairs, watch perfumery investigations and, when circumstances demand it, open letters will be directed to public officials who are found to be responsible. From time to time, it is proposed to ask public officials pertinent questions and, when unsatisfactory conditions are not remedied, the facts will be given to its membership and to the public.

H. L. Scates, who recently resigned from the Department of Justice because of its failure to act in war fraud cases will be counsel for the organization.

Concrete Worker Falls To Death

RICHMOND, Va., July 20.—Piero E. Wilmer, aged 34, concrete worker, was almost instantly killed, and Albert Perkins, colored, aged 26, was severely injured when a cable holding a concrete chute broke, precipitating them many feet below, while they were working on the new Central high school building at Tenth and Marshall streets this morning about 10:45 o'clock. Wilmer fell about five feet, approximately thirty feet, landing on his head. His skull was crushed. He died a few minutes after reaching the Memorial hospital, to which he was taken.

Many Women Are Expert Bootleggers, Drys Report

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Prohibition officers throughout the United States report to headquarters that women bootleggers are becoming expert. The chance to make money during women to take the risk and some of them "get by" with it, officials assert.

Mrs. Rebecca Goldberg, of Wheeling, W. Va., is now serving six months in jail for making and selling liquor. She accumulated $15,000 at this before she was caught. She was not only a good business manager but very cunning in escaping detection.

Prohibition officers reported today that they found a rope leading to a pile of dirt and rubbish. On the other end they found a five-gallon jug of moonshine liquor. In a pile of rags they also found thirty dollars in cash and a lead band which was in the house upstairs, they found a complete still.

Women Organize To Promote Honesty In Government Affairs

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Largely out of the crease of the government to prevent it with the real wages of war frauds, a new women's organization has been organized with the end in view of eliminating the possibility of a repetition of the kind of frauds which exist in the government. The organization is called the Women's Clean Government Association, and it has elected its permanent organization. The first president is Miss Margaret E. Foster, secretary is Miss Irene Green, and treasurer is Miss Margaret E. Foster.

The organization is to be a permanent one, and its purpose is to keep the government honest and to prevent the kind of frauds which exist in the government. The organization is to be a permanent one, and its purpose is to keep the government honest and to prevent the kind of frauds which exist in the government.

Russ Triumvirate Is Now in Charge

LONDON, June 20.—The Russian problem has been complicated by the passing of Nikolai Lenin from the active leadership of Russian affairs. This will react on The Hague, for other countries will be still more tentative in dealing with Russia than ever before until it is seen in what direction the new Russian directorate swings Russian policy. All news from Russia is doubtful, but it seems certain that Mr. Lenin's retirement from active politics will be for a long time.

Apparently a triumvirate has taken charge of this place. One view is that this means continuation of the new economic policy Mr. Lenin has forced upon Russia, a view of which color has been lent by the fact that Leo Kamenef, one of the triumvirate, has always been one of Mr. Lenin's closest personal friends. No one, however, seems prepared to hazard an opinion as to their ability to hold Leon Trotsky and other extremists in check.

This uncertainty will have an important result at The Hague, for confidence has been growing not so much in Mr. Lenin's good intentions and more especially in his ability to force upon his countrymen the economic policy of the need of conforming in Russia's economic relations with the rest of the world to the fundamental moral standard of the rest of the world. His, at least temporary, disappearance will probably greatly intensify the demand upon the Russian delegates at The Hague and it will not modify French hostility.

Raymond Poincare has been welcomed to London by the British people with a warmth which should indicate the high regard in which they think of him. It is determined to be finished with the friendship of her old ally so as to cultivate new friends. Today he will have conferences with the British Cabinet, which may profoundly affect the future of the entente. If the British people hear tomorrow that the general situation was discussed and a complete accord reached on all points they will expect the worst for this assurance has preceded every crisis in Anglo-Russian relations. They will be astounded to hear that the profound Anglo-French differences in international politics have been thrashed out and will not insist upon anything more in the meantime.

Sec. Daugherty On the Steel Merger

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, June 21.—Attorney General Daugherty, without other comment, today made public the following statement: "The steel merger cases now before the Department of Justice, it is announced today that the department will be glad to hear from any dependable person, who has any legitimate arguments to offer against the merger."

RICHMOND, June 21.—The election of officers, the choice of the next convention city, reports of important committees were in order when the Confederate veterans, on the second day of their reunion, got down to business today. Memorial exercises were held at noon.

Strangled by False Teeth or Murdered by Robbers

CHICAGO, June 20.—The body of a man believed to be James E. Stroud, of New York, found behind a West Side residence today, presented an unusual mystery to the police, for after a preliminary investigation they were unable to determine whether the man had been murdered or had accidentally strangled to death on his false teeth while asleep.

The neck was discolored, indicating strangulation, and a stained hatchet handle near by led at first to a theory of murder. Further examination showed that a set of false teeth had lodged in the man's throat, leading the police to believe that he may have fallen asleep and strangled when the teeth fell back.

A baggage check on the body led to discovery of a suitcase at a railroad station, in which were found numerous books, taken by the police to indicate that the man had been a teacher or a student. A telegram in it was addressed to E. D. Stroud at the New York address.

The shoes had been taken off the body and all papers removed. No money was found, and the police expressed a belief that robbery was the motive if the man was murdered.

Reidsville, N. C., Has a Three-Cylinder Chicken

Reidsville's "three-cylinder" chicken is exciting the interest of Rockingham county. The youngster, which is the property of Major W. S. Allen, has been abundantly supplied by nature to scatter for a living. The bird has stuck out in the rear like the spare wheel on an automobile, and while the chicken does not use it for locomotive purposes, it is making use of it in scratching up grub worms and other insects. The chicken sometimes gets into its third leg and uses the spare wheel with a will in supplying the daily ration, and seems unusually well and healthy.

More than 50,000,000 gallons of gasoline were produced in 1918. Six million children are born every year in China. A real star radiates heat and as it cools it shrinks.

"Close-Up" of Mars Shows Snow Caps

Astronomers Studying Plan- et Also Believe They Saw Green Fields—Moons Interest Scientist.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—The planet Mars, with its two moons and what many scientists believe to be snow-capped mountains and fertile fields of vegetation, hovered only about 42,000,000 miles from the earth Monday night and was the subject of comparatively intimate observation by astronomers at the United States naval observatory, despite heavy clouds and unsatisfactory atmospheric conditions.

No remarkable discoveries or observations were recorded during the inspection of the planet. It was announced today by observatory officials, who added that greenish markings and white shadows were clearly discernible.

What these shadowy substances might be, Dr. Asaph Hall, one of the foremost astronomers of America, who studied the planet intently for several hours during its closest approach last night, said was a matter of conjecture.

Dr. Hall expressed the opinion from "close up" inspection of the planet that there must be little atmosphere and less heat and light on the distant sphere than on the earth. Under such conditions, he added, inhabitants, if there be any, must be quite different from inhabitants of this earthly body.

Dr. Hall was inclined to believe that the white shadows or markings discernible, especially when the sun was shining brightly, might possibly be snow or ice and the greenish markings either water or vegetation.

What appeared to interest Dr. Hall and his brother scientists most was the planet's two moons. Movements of these orbs, Dr. Hall explained, was of vital scientific interest, and close examination of the ever shifting moons had been made at every opportunity since last May.

Old Treasure To Be Raised

PENETANGUISHEN, Ont., June 20.—The lost treasure box of Jesuit missionaries, who cast it in the River Wye near here almost 300 years ago, has been located, it is believed, and may be raised from the river bed tomorrow.

Hundreds of spectators are watching the dredging ship which has dredged up thousands of cubic yards of mud from the bed of the river in an effort to recover the treasure box. Fisher Murray hopes the ancient box, lost since 1633, will be found to contain silver and gold coins and other vessels of rare historical value.

A device for locating metal has been used by the searchers, who believe the machine has definitely indicated the spot where the box was cast away by the missionaries as they fled from the Huron Indians.

NORTHCLIFFE IN LONDON

LONDON, June 20.—Lord Northcliffe returned to England from Switzerland today. He authorized a statement to the effect that he had been advised to undergo a course of treatment on account of heart weakness, aggravated by an attack of pneumonia poisoning.

His return comes at a time when great interest has been aroused over the libel suits brought against him by Sir Andrew Caird and Walter Fish, his associates on the Associated Newspapers, Ltd.

HOME FOR SAILORS

RICHMOND, Va., June 20.—The seed, from which is expected to grow a home for the few remaining officers and sailors of the Confederate navy was sown tonight in an address by Admiral A. O. Wright, commander of the gunboat Hampton.

Gay Messenger Bound To Safe Brokers' Plan To Foil Bandits

NEW YORK, June 21.—New York is going to try something new tomorrow to foil the bandits who prey on Wall Street messengers hastening through the financial district with vast sums in securities.

Abandoning the old theory that a messenger should look as inconspicuous and unimportant as possible, several brokerage houses have decided to test the antithesis, by dressing their messengers in the brightest of red coats and hitching five-pound portable safes around their waists.

Security owners decided that the old theory must be wrong, because hold-up men never made a mistake in the identity of their victims. By letting the whole world know a messenger when it sees one, they hope the public will aid him if he is attacked.

The safe has a trick to it too. A steel chain encircling the messenger's waist under the coat escapes through a hole in the left side and is latched inside the safe, of whose combination the messenger is ignorant. So he has to return to his office to get free of the key to the padlock is kept by his boss.

First Prize Fish Story From Fredericksburg

FREDERICKSBURG, June 20.—A few days ago Dr. Alfred C. Palmer, of Urbana, was sitting on his back porch in full view of his fountain in which he has a club. He heard the murmur of water and then heard a flutter, which was repeated a second time. Upon investigation it was found that the fish had caught an English sparrow, torn its breast open and eaten a portion of the bird.

FINED FOR TRESPASS.

Flossie Willis, a negroess was fined $5 and costs in the police court this morning on a charge of trespass. She was charged with unlawfully entering the home of Martha Stevens, also colored, at night time. She was at first charged with housebreaking but after the evidence was heard, the charge was changed to trespass. It was shown that the negroess went to Martha Stevens' house for the sole purpose of trying to find her husband. Henry Richardson was fined $11.50 for violating the traffic ordinance.

May Create New Men Out Of $500 Chimpanzees

PARIS, June 20.—Dr. Serge Voronoff's monkey gland experiments have led to the startling discovery that it is possible to transplant the actual organs of a chimpanzee to humans.

"Once I am using four different glands from every chimpanzee received from Africa, not only thyroid glands for weak-minded children and uterine glands for the rejuvenation of the aged," said Dr. Voronoff. "All chimpanzee glands which I have transplanted have thrived so well in the human body that I have tried less organs, which also are thriving well. I am experimenting now on major organs and I expect to announce soon that a man may have any new organ."

"The chimpanzee is the only species of the monkey that can be used, it being wonderfully like a human. The organs are identical and the bloods are indistinguishable. Chimpanzees are now costing $500 each. I do not pretend to transform the aged into youths, but I can push back their faculties more vigorous. I have been operating continually on humans since October, 1919, and on goats over a longer period. The full effect of an operation is felt only after three years."

Western Mining Men Meet At Denver

DENVER, Colo., June 20.—More than 100 leading mine and smelter operators gathered here today for the western mining conference called by the American Mining Congress. Representatives from Colorado, Washington, California, Nevada, Idaho, Arizona, New Mexico, Montana, Utah, Oklahoma, Missouri, South Dakota, Wyoming and Oregon as well as Mexico, Canada and Alaska are here.

The principal objects of the meeting are:

First—to take steps for the rehabilitation of the western mining industry.

Second to regulate the output of silver in the United States, Mexico, Canada and Alaska.

Third—United action in opposition to proposed obnoxious legislation and revision of certain federal mining laws.

Just now, the mining industry in the west is beginning to emerge from a long period of depression and the conference hopes to bring about united action on the part of operators to further stimulate activity in metal mining and bring it back to its former place among the leading industries of the country.

WALTER HAGEN AND KIRKWOOD LEAD GOLFERS

SANDWICH, England, June 20.—(By the Associated Press)—When all the cards were turned in today at the conclusion of the second qualifying round in the British open golf championship, Walter Hagen, United States, and Joe Kirkwood, the Australian open champion, led the field with aggregate scores of 147 for the two days of play.

Jack Hutchinson, the holder of the British title, was in third place with 149, while Jim Barnes, the American open champion, was sixteenth with a 154. The other two Americans in the tournament, C. Mayo and Edward Van Vleck, failed to qualify. Mayo's card read 165. Van Vleck tore up his score and quit the contest.

The most notable of the players to fail to qualify was former champion James Braid, who was just outside the select with a total of 162. His great fault was in putting. He took four strokes on the sixth green, and on the homeward half required three putts at six of the nine holes.

Harry Vardon, Abe Mitchell and Roger Wethered each had scores of 152. Wethered had the lowest score of any of the amateurs in the tournament. Cyril Tolley, another ama-

THE SALES TAX ON BONUS BILL

CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 20.—(Associated Press)—Opposition to a retail sales tax, with a warning that effort can be expected to have it written into the soldier bonus bill, and the re-declaration of a policy opposed to unrestricted immigration marked the action today of the American Federation of Labor convention as it settled down to its final week's work.

By unanimous vote, the convention directed officers of the federation to wage the fight against the sales tax with "unabated force." The decision of the delegates coming without declaration of the immigration committee's report. The immigration policy provoked only brief discussion during which Max Greenstein, of the jewelry workers' union, urged unrestricted immigration at least for skilled workers, while Charles L. Byrne, of the shoe workers' union, replied there was "too much unemployment in this country now without bringing in more immigrants."

Administration of the federal budget law also was brought before the convention by the committee report asserting that the "budget administrators have prostituted the high purpose of the budget system by using it for political propaganda."

The committee, however, declared in favor of a "satisfactory budget system," and its report was adopted with the provision, instructing the federation executive council to use every "effort to correct glaring administrative defects which are operating to the disadvantage of the present budget system." Special complaint was made that the committee had been over-sealous in reducing expenditures of the department of labor.

Faced with a big work program for the final week, the delegates were not inclined to debate. Quick action generally ruled in the disposition of all questions and adjournment came when no more work was ready for immediate consideration.

ENTIRE PARTY IN CAR KILLED IN TRAIN CRASH

MACON, Ga., June 20.—Six tourists riding in an automobile from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., to Nicholasville, Ky., were killed here at 4 o'clock this afternoon when a Central of Georgia passenger train crashed into the vehicle.

Mrs. Lovelia Cox, the only one in the party who was not instantly killed, told officers just before she died that her husband is Howard Cox, whom she said was a prisoner in Moundsville, W. Va. The others have not been identified.

Letters in the possession of the victims were addressed to Mrs. Cox, Miss Lovelia Taylor, L. A. Taylor and J. P. Taylor.

N. A. Powers, Jr., who operates a little store at the scene of the accident and who was the first to reach the wrecked automobile, says Mrs. Lovelia Cox gave him the following names of the victims, all being from Nicholasville, Ky.

The dead:

J. P. Taylor, Mrs. J. P. Taylor, Mrs. Howard Cox, infant daughter of Mrs. Cox, a son of J. P. Taylor and an unidentified body of a man believed to be a member of the Taylor family. Mrs. Cox said before she died that she was the daughter of J. P. and Mrs. Taylor.

These were the three men in the party, two men and a little baby girl. They were driving northward and the train, which was behind time, was running at high speed, southward from Atlanta. At the crossing at Loraine, 12 miles from this city, the crash occurred.

START "ICE WATER" SUIT

NEW YORK, June 20.—The Wall Street exchange re-echoed in City Court today, with the opening of the trial of a $10,000 suit, alleging false arrest and imprisonment, brought against the Shipping Board and the Northern Steamship company, operators of the City of Alton, by Philip Bender, a seaman.

Silas B. Axtell, counsel for Bender, told the court that his client has been unjustly accused of being a Bolshevik and being connected with the New York explosion, when he was taken from the steamer at Rio de Janeiro on a trip from Buenos Aires in 1920, after a "strike" had occurred aboard the vessel, because of a lack of ice water.

It was contended the lack of cold drinking water was due to the crew using water in the ice plant for washing, that a new tank had been taken aboard at Buenos Aires, and that mutiny had followed shutting down of tank for repairs.

He said that the Consul at Rio had reproved the seamen for conduct which he said smacked of Bolshevism and had given them another chance, but they had proved obdurate. Then, he said, the arrests were made by the Consul's order.

Joint Strike Is Discussed Last Night By Leaders

CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 20.—(By the Associated Press).—Joint strike action between railroad workers and striking coal miners was discussed tonight at a conference of John L. Lewis, leader in the coal strike, with chiefs of the rail unions, which are threatening to walk out next month in protest against wage reductions. The conference ended without any announcement whether definite plans had been agreed on by the leaders of the two groups.

When the meeting broke up, conferees declared they had agreed on a policy of silence, which was maintained except for the issuance of a joint statement by B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employees' department of Labor, and Mr. Lewis, indicating what they termed the necessity of a strike, and discussed in abstractly the present industrial situation. Conference, however, said they regarded the statement as important, and pointed out its dual authorship.

"Finding themselves confronted with a common crisis," said the statement, "it is only natural that these workers should decide to do everything necessary to protect their separate interests."

Further meetings, it was said, are planned by the union leaders, and it was learned authoritatively that their conference had indicated an impossibility of final agreement on strike plans until after the canvass of the strike vote that is now being cast by the rail workers, whose wages are to be reduced on July 1.

After the conference Mr. Jewell went into conference with a number of lawyers with whom he had already met earlier in the day. In the joint statement it was asserted that both the miners and the railroad men had "no alternative but to strike," and that "all attempts at peaceable and orderly adjustment have been fruitless."

The present crisis and the impending struggle, the statement continued, "is not one which the workers in the mines or on the railroads can with honor avoid without being recreant to their manhood and to those principles which all men who love liberty and humanity must carry forward inviolate and risk all to maintain. It involves the fundamentals of economic and social life. All workers will be affected by the extent to which the forces seeking to crush these workers in the railroad and mining industries are successfully resisted."

Hooper Predicts Failure For the Railway Strike

CHICAGO, June 20.—(By The Associated Press).—Disaster for the striking railway unions and unfortunate results for their membership was predicted to follow the threatened walkout of which a strike vote is now being taken by nine railroad labor organizations, in a letter from Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the railroad labor board, to the union leaders today.

Answering a letter from the union chiefs, which declared the executives would authorize a strike if the employees demanded it, Chairman Hooper made categorical reply to the "fierce assaults" on the board, for which he declared there was no ground.

"With the degree of friendly interest that I feel in these organizations and with the recognition I accord to their great service to the membership, I am hopeful that they will not adopt a course that will surely prove disastrous to the organization and unfortunate to the men composing them," wrote Mr. Hooper.

"It is regrettable that such a step is contemplated at a time when the country is just entering upon an era of more stable industrial conditions and that gives promise of an enlarged degree of prosperity to railway employees."

Although Chairman Hooper said in the letter which was addressed to B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, that he felt no reply was required to the unions' strike axiom, he expressed a willingness to go beyond the strict limits of my official authority in the interest of railway peace.

FLOOD WATERS REACH SEAPATA

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, June 20.—Flood waters of the Rio Grande which yesterday and today wrought havoc at Eagle Pass and Laredo, late today had reached the Seapata Texas district. 130 miles west of here, driving 100,000 farmers and goat herders into the hills on both sides of the river.

Rio Grande City reported that the river had risen to 200 feet above normal or seven feet under the high mark of Sunday. A slight rise also was reported at Mission. Three brakemen from a waterbound train at Carmago reached Matamoros today after having walked the right of way for sixty miles in water from a foot to five feet deep. The entire country is inundated, they said. The actual stage of the river here is 19 feet and the channel at this point can hold no more water river men said. The city commission today gave the city manager blanket authority to hire all the men and produce all the materials necessary to protect the city from flood damage.

AVIATORS LEAVE TO ASSIST IN RESCUE

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, June 20.—Three aviators of Kelly Field left today for Austin, Texas, to assist in rescue work along the Rio Grande, now on one of the biggest rises in history and which threatens much damage in the lower valley country. The fliers will drop bags of food over the homes of marooned farmers who are discovered cut off by back waters.

It was considered very effeminate to carry an umbrella when they were first introduced into the United States in the latter part of the eighteenth century.

ARCHBISHOP ARAGONE WORSE

MONTEVIDEO, June 20.—The condition of Archbishop Juan Francisco Aragone, who was shot while celebrating Mass in the Cathedral here yesterday, was reported as becoming worse today. Surgeons found that the intestines had been perforated and peritonitis is feared.

The prelate was attacked by Benigno Herrera Salazar, 23-year-old Spaniard who recently arrived here from Buenos Aires. After firing five shots from a revolver, Salazar pursued his victim to the street, where the assassin was overpowered by members of the congregation.

HAS HER WISH FULFILLED

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., June 20.—Mrs. George Cash, 61 years old, who had frequently expressed the hope that she be taken away before the death of any member of her family, had her wish fulfilled in her death tonight after a lingering illness. Her husband, eight children and a number of grandchildren are all surviving.

PUBLIC LIBRARIES LACKING IN U. S.

DETROIT, June 20.—Half the population of the United States virtually is beyond the reach of public libraries, according to officials of the American Library Association, and it was stated that this problem would be given special attention at the forty-fourth annual conference of the library body here June 26-July 1.

An exhibit of county library activities in various parts of the United States is being assembled by a special committee. It will represent the work of the county libraries in Minnesota, Texas, Indiana, New Jersey, Ohio, California, Maryland and Michigan.

Pictures and maps showing the progress of the work and special phases of it developed in different regions, lantern slides and descriptive folders are being arranged. California, where library work is highly developed, will be represented by 190 photographs. Texas will be represented by photographs and by a large map of Cook county showing in detail how the country is organized to make books reach every home in that territory.

A map of the United States is being prepared which will show which states have public libraries which permit the establishment of libraries in the counties. A toy village—a model of a library center—will show in graphic form how neighborhoods gather to borrow books. Azariah Root of Oberlin college, president of the American Library Association, will give a radio talk on county libraries in the United States.

TO LIMIT WAREHOUSES FOR ALL GRADED LIQUOR

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Prohibition Commissioner Haynes expects soon to have all the graded liquor in the country stored in a few big warehouses. At present the liquor remains stored in 300 buildings under Internal Revenue Bureau guardianship.

This concentration measure, Haynes said, will also be of material benefit on that spirits will be more securely protected at less expense to the government, and to a large extent will do away with the warehouses, where many robberies have occurred in the past.

Removal of liquor to these centralized storage buildings is authorized by regulations just issued by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Blair in accordance with a provision of the Treasury appropriation act, approved last February.

FIND JESUIT'S TREASURE

PNETANGUSHENE, Ont., June 20.—The golden treasures of the Jesuits' lost for 300 years have been located, according to Captain Robert Carson, in charge of the hunt for the iron chest beneath the Wye-river.

The box was lost when the black-robed missionaries fled down the Wye, rests on the edge of the great hole dredged in the bottom of the river. Captain Carson said, and was found during the second of his descents into the depths of the river yesterday.

He said that he believed the chest, with its golden altar vessels and manuscripts telling of the early history of Canada, would be brought to the surface shortly.

Members of the Jesuit order and provincial officials will be on hand to open the iron box if it is brought from its centuries-old grave.

The truth is that men have always found USCO an outstanding money's worth no matter what its price.

Today at $10.90 USCO maintains its established standard of quality.

And because of the new price, it sets a new index of tire value.

Men who have used USCO have never been inclined to measure its.

Since last fall when USCO established the $10.90 price range they have recognized it as a value beyond any possible comparison.

Terrazas Hale At Age of 94

CHIHUAHUA CITY, Chihuahua, Mexico, June 21.—Cards, letters and telegrams from many places in the United States and Mexico were received today by General Luis Terrazas, tokens of esteem and greetings on this day, his ninety-fourth birthday anniversary.

Congratulations did not come by mail and wire alone, hundreds of persons greeted him face to face today. Many among them were Mexicans who had known the aged general all their lives.

A penniless orphan when 10 years old, Gen. Terrazas first learned the value of hard work. Then he became a soldier, an officer in the army, a general, governor of Mexico's largest state, a Mexican patriot and statesman, a multi-millionaire.

He is spending his ninety-fourth birthday anniversary in the city of his birth, having been an exile for seven years, but who since has been welcomed back to his native land.

Since 1920 he has been living here in his old palatial mansion. He still conducts a little business at least. He still maintains an office, and goes to and from home daily. During the seven years of his exile he lived in El Paso, Texas, and Los Angeles. He was driven out of Villa's army, after the death of one of his sons, who was captured by Villa and held in prison until he died from exposure. His exile began in 1913, and in 1920, President Obregon welcomed him back to Mexico.

The general's first notable exploit was in 1866 when he led a force of Mexicans against Chihuahua City, which was then held by the French under Maximilian. Although greatly outnumbered, Terrazas' men took the city, and turned the tide in the revolution against the French invaders which was under way in Chihuahua by Benito Juarez.

Before this time, however, he had made a success as a soldier, and as chief of police of Chihuahua City. His first business success was managing butcher shops here. After service as police chief, he became mayor, and then was elected governor. For years his candidacy, if such it could be called, was never opposed.

Section after section of land he came his after he and his followers had settled on it undisputed. Many grants were given to him by the government. At times he owned more than half the state of Chihuahua, and on a railroad train a person could travel day and night and never get entirely across his lands. His estate was estimated at various times between 1,000,000 and 70,000,000 acres, but it is a fact that he owned and controlled for years 7,000,000 on which there were thousands of horses, cows and sheep. At that time he was the largest land owner in the world; his friends declared, and his wealth was estimated at $200,000,000.

Villa's men did inestimable damage to the general's estate. Terrazas lost houses, land and thousands of head of stock. His followers were killed and all he possessed and controlled was thrown into confusion by the Vilistas and the bandits which followed Villa from 1910 to 1920.

When he returned in 1920, he found that his estate, long left idle, had been confiscated, or appropriated under the agrarian laws. The expropriation of his estate is still pending, and if the government carries out its decree he will lose practically all he has, except his palatial homestead.

As far as can be learned, Gen. Terrazas is the sole survivor of the battle of Chihuahua City, famous in the annals of Mexican history.

Gen. Terrazas had 12 children and most of them are living. His wife died in Los Angeles in 1919 at the age of 86.

The general declares he will live to be 100. He prays, he said, to outlive his arch enemy, Francisco Villa, so in the next world he can "rebuke him for his sins." Villa is not 50 yet, and is much stronger than Terrazas.

Horse Far From Being Obsolete

CHICAGO, Ill., June 21.—In what has been termed a "bridge path" are in 13 of the leading American cities and their vicinity, according to figures of the Horse Association of America. Chicago leads with approximately 200 miles. During the year, Washington's trails are in the first rank in quality. Eight of the leading cities have 45 riding schools. Horse shows are springing up in all parts of the country, especially in the neighborhood of summer resorts.

The Denver horse show held recently near Philadelphia has an attendance of 20,000 and the crowds even overran the polo fields.

The association says that bridge trails have been made through the forest preserves near Chicago. These preserves cover more than 23,000 acres; Boston's trails lead through the country and the forest reservations. There are seven riding schools in the city and seven more in the suburbs.

Every Sunday afternoon from 300 to 5000 riders use the trails which cover more than 75 miles in Rock Creek Park, District of Columbia. Jumps in this park were laid out by President Roosevelt during his administration. Washington has eight miles of paths in Potomac Park and around the swampy. Efforts are now being made to link Rock Creek Park to Potomac Park by a bridge path along the Potomac river.

Six miles of bridge path in Central Park, New York, are heavily crowded on Saturday afternoon and Sunday, and it is said that riders using the two miles of paths in Riverside Drive are occasionally forced out on the asphalt with the motorists. Van Cortlandt Park has six miles which lead out of New York into many miles of country roads suitable for horseback riding.

Brooklyn's bridge trails total 30 miles. Prospect Park is used by an estimated 100,000 riders.

Labor Preacher

Rev. William Reese was the only ordained minister at the American Federation of Labor conference in Cincinnati. He gave up his church several years ago and is now financial secretary of the Building Trades Council of New Orleans.

A new French cure has been developed which, it is said, is absolutely without record. The eating of sauerkraut tends to prolong human life, according to some medical scientists.

Built For Silent Travel

The muffler cut-out of a motorcycle is no more designed to be used continuously than is the warning signal.

When the going is steep and rutty in ascending a hill, a very slight addition of power is gained by allowing the exhaust a ready, early escape through the cut-out, but in ordinary usage it need rarely be called into play.

The HARLEY-DAVIDSON Motorcycle

is built with plenty of power, yet that power is exerted silently. The Harley-Davidson has a cut-out, but it is there to use only as explained above or, in "warming up" the machine, to determine whether or not both cylinders are firing.

The Harley-Davidson is popularly known as the "silent fellow". It is designed to work perfectly with the least possible noise of working parts, and exhaust noises are efficiently muffled by a muffler of the best scientific design.
